LEWIS CLAIMS HE CAN'T BE MADE TO DEAL

Says He Is Not Bound To Dicker With Southern Coal Association

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 1—John L. Lewis argued today that he is not required to bargain with the "hostile, arbitrary" Southern Coal Producers Association.

This was his reply to the government's motion for a Taft-Hartley act injunction to compel his United Mine Workers to seek a contract with the association.

Lewis' lawyers filed a motion to dismiss the injunction suit brought by Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations board.

Requires Bargaining

The Taft-Hartley law requires unions and employers to bargain in good faith with each other's chosen representatives. Lewis has refused to bargain with the southern group on the ground it did not take part in previous contract talks, and national negotiations for a new soft coal contract have collapsed as a result.

The union, in moving to dismiss the suit, filed a long affidavit from Lewis himself attacking the southern group and explaining why he won't deal with it.

The union's lawyer, Welly K. Hopkins, contended among other things that:

1. The Taft-Hartley section under which the injunction is sought violates the constitution.

2. The law requires the five-man labor relations board itself to file such petitions and gives it no right to delegate the authority to Denham's office, or others.

The International Typographical union made the same contention in fighting against a Denham-sought injunction three months ago, but Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert ruled against the union on both counts.

He granted an injunction requiring the ITU to cease certain practices pending a decision by the NLRB as to whether the practices violate the Taft-Hartley act.

Hopkins also said an injunction would impair the obligation of the parties to the 1947 soft coal agreement.

Says "Different"
Concerning this, Lewis pointed out in his affidavit that the 1947 contract was worded differently from previous contracts and said it was deliberately written so as to exclude the Southern Coal Producers association.

Lewis said this association was created with the purpose "to thwart, delay, obstruct and prevent the making of contracts in true collective bargaining."

He said the association's "hostile, arbitrary, recalcitrant, negative and adamant attitude" has been the cause of government seizure of the soft coal mines in 1943, 1945, and 1946.

He quoted the present contract as saying "it is hereby stipulated and agreed by all parties signatory hereto that they, and each of them, will attend any conference or conference held under the terms of this agreement."

The Southern association is not a signatory to that contract.

Lewis said the union is "perfectly willing" and always has been willing to meet with the actual producers of southern coal and their local associations which signed the 1947 contract.

Swirling Columbia Flood Waters Devastate Oregon Town

CRUMPLED TWO-STORY APARTMENTS of the war-built town of Vanport, Ore., lie jammed together in tangled piles where they were carried by raging flood waters that poured into the community when an embankment along the swollen Columbia river burst. Lower stories of the frame buildings are under water and rescuers have been unable to search them for the possibly scores of victims who lost their lives in the deluge. In the foreground is a highway to which hundreds of residents fled frantically to escape the flood. (International Soundphoto).

MASS EXODUS IN FLOOD AREA

Oregon Area Is Stricken As Columbia River Reaches Crest

BY PAUL W. HARVEY JR.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 1—Mass evacuations began today as the flood-swollen Columbia river brought new peril today to a 120-mile section at the lower end of the stream.

The river, which already had caused the Pacific northwest's greatest disaster, threatened to flood hundreds of farms and many small cities in the area, nearly all of which is downstream from Portland.

Army engineers ordered the evacuation of the thousands of residents of the 43 drainage districts area, but said many of them already had run for higher ground.

The Portland housing authority estimated a $27,000,000 loss suffered by the war-housing city of Vanport, which was crumpled Sunday. That was the only flood loss estimate available, although before the Vanport disaster, Army engineers had predicted a loss of $30,000,000 to farms and houses, and to valuable topsoil being swept to sea.

The river, second largest in the nation in amount of water discharged, is at flood stage for 750 miles. The crest will reach the Portland area tonight or tomorrow.

Part of Portland's downtown area, including the union station, was under water today after the Willamette river topped the seawall. The station is Portland's only railroad depot, and trains were unable to use it.

Hit-Skip Driver Injures Cyclist

David Messersmith, 17, of 884 Summit st., was the victim of a vicious hit-skip driver at about midnight Saturday when he was run over while on a bicycle and left unconscious on the street, police reported.

The youth was riding on S. Broadway, near the Salem China plant when hit. He said he heard a noise behind him just before he was blacked out. The night police found the bike, completely demolished in the street. Recognizing it, they checked at the Messersmith residence and found the boy at home in a dazed condition. He had walked home.

He was treated at the Central Clinic for a severe scalp laceration, abrasions of the ear and shock.

Another hit-skip driver, Bruce Herron, 18, of Salem was fined $300 and costs this morning in Mayor R. R. Johnson's court. He crashed his car into the front of Sheen's service station on N. Lincoln at 4 a. m. Saturday, damaging the building.

Mayor Johnson suspended $100 of the fine.

Johnson also fined Earl Spencer, 39, of Milville, $100 and costs after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was arrested at 2:30 a. m. today on E. State st. at Highland ave.

Choose Talisman of Love, Senior Class Is Advised

Rev. George C. Beebe, pastor of the Methodist church, offered the 182 Salem High school graduates the choice of three talismans to carry through life's journey when he made the baccalaureate address Sunday evening in the High school auditorium. His topic was "Your Talisman."

He told the old legend of the youth who stood at the portals of the castle of his childhood, closing the doors upon his world of make-believe, of play and lessons, of dreams. Before him in the land of grim reality stretched the road to the city of his heart's desire, and he was offered three things to guide him there.

The youth pondered which to take, for one was an ancient lamp, and one a blue flower, and one was a red-stained chalice.

The lamp represented Alladin's lamp, but the speaker said he could call it the almighty dollar, which many have taken as their talisman. It is the one thing they want, believing that if they have a big enough bank balance that all they have to do is to touch it and they can have anything they want.

Broader Vision Needed
But Rev. Beebe pointed out that the saddest day in anyone's life is the day he thinks that money will solve all of his problems. "When he thinks that, look out!"

The blue flower talisman is happiness, a fragile thing and likened under the remarks of the old Adirondack guide who had this answer when asked about the fishing. "Well, the fishing is fine," he said, "but the catching is a little poor." So it is with happiness.

"You will never find the secret of happiness as long as you ask the question of life 'What do I want?' not 'What is wanted of me?'" he said.

In conclusion the speaker offered the young people a third talisman.

LOSS INDEFINITE IN SWAMPING OF BOAT HOLDING 90

(By Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Va., June 1—A naval spokesman said today he believed the death toll in the swamping of a launch carrying 90 navy men in Hampton Roads "will be under 20."

Rear Admiral C. A. F. Sprague, commander of a Mediterranean bound task force, said in a statement issued to newsmen "we believe that death number will be under 20 men missing. This may include stragglers."

By stragglers, Sprague meant men absent over leave.

Sprague said it was impossible to determine the number of survivors in the choppy, rain-swept waters.

The admiral's statement was sent ashore by messenger from the aircraft carrier Kearsarge, anchored two miles off the fleet landing at the Norfolk naval station. The launch was attached to the carrier and swamped within 20 yards off the carrier's port beam at 8:45 o'clock last night as it was returning a liberty party to the carrier.

Some Picked Up
Naval spokesman had reported earlier today that "some men" were picked up by rescue vessels and one man swam ashore.

At 2 a. m. today all naval tugs and small craft that had been searching the area were withdrawn, leaving two Coast Guard ships to continue the search.

The launch was a 56-foot open vessel.

Sprague, replying to newsmen's requests for permission to board the launch, said he did not know whether it would be possible.

Sailing of the task force was delayed indefinitely after the accident and its ships were placed on four hour sailing notice.

A special muster of the Kearsarge's complement was still in progress at 7:30 a. m. Even such a muster will be inconclusive, however, as a number of men normally are absent over leave when naval ships sail for extensive duty in foreign waters.

The Kearsarge, with three cruisers, seven destroyers and a transport, was scheduled to sail at 5 a. m. today for the Mediterranean to relieve a similar force which has been on duty in that area since last winter.

A motor launch returning a liberty party from Hyeres, France, to the carrier Midway on February 16 was swamped. In this accident an officer, a Marine and six seamen were lost; 53 survived.

Jewish Raids On Arabs As Truce Talk Goes On Is Held Dampening

(By Associated Press)
CAIRO, June 1—Jewish airmen bombed Amman, Trans-Jordan, a few hours before Arab league leaders met there today on a cease fire proposal for the Palestine war.

Escapes from King Abdullah's little capital across the Jordan from Palestine said the bombing aroused bitterness. Observers there said the raids may have blasted away the faint hope of a United Nations truce.

The attack came as the Arab Allies reported their troops and armor massing on a 40-mile front in an effort to throw a noose around Tel Aviv, the heart of Israel.

The British announced in Haifa that an RAF field near Amman also was struck. Arab officials in Trans-Jordan said six Arab civilians, including two children, were killed. The British put the total dead at 12, wounded at 30.

Single Plane Raids
Officials in Amman said only one plane was sighted in each of four runs over Amman, the last just at dawn. They said about 10 bombs, some of them incendiaries, were dropped, but that the only property damage was to a building housing a worker's family. The British said several grounded aircraft at the field were damaged.

Tel Aviv has been the target for Egyptian attacks from the air virtually every day since May 16. One such attack wrecked a bus terminal with a heavy loss of life.

Indications in Cairo had been that the Arabs would accept a four-week truce plan of the Security Council only on condition the Jews would repudiate their new state of Israel. The Jews have given every indication they would resist such a demand.

While the political leaders talked, there was no sign of a letup in the fighting. Official word from both sides indicated a major battle is brewing along a winding 40-mile front from Jerusalem northwest to Tulkarm, an inland city in Arab territory, equidistant from Haifa and Tel Aviv.

25 Planes Join In Air Show Here

Salem was treated to an air show Sunday afternoon when about 25 planes participated in formation and stunt flying.

The show, arranged by Sam Keener and his pilots, was a feature of the Salem Polo club's game and the planes took off from the polo field on the Ellsworth rd. north of the city.

The planes included Keener's and several from Youngstown, Austin, town, Miller field at North Benton, and Akron. Keener did the announcing to a crowd of about 1,000.

Keener's pilots, Nelson Rokes and Ralph Matthews, gave special demonstrations, Matthews at stunt flying and Rokes showing how it is possible to fly with only one engine.

During the Memorial day ceremonies Monday, Keener and Rokes flew over the parade formation.

These events demonstrated the possibilities for greater air participation of Salem gets a municipal airport.

FIVE WEEKEND FIRE ALARMS ANSWERED

The fire department made five runs over the weekend, but none of the fires was of a serious nature, Chief Vincent Malloy reported.

Three alarms were answered Saturday at a fire in a sedan on S. Lincoln. At 3:47 p. m. the department went to 321 S. Broadway to extinguish a paper fire in a garage.

A burning mattress in the home of Lucy Burke of the Benton road was put out by firemen at 5:55 p. m. Saturday.

A fire in an upholstered chair in an apartment at 224 S. Broadway, occupied by Betty Ward, was extinguished at 6:16 a. m. Sunday.

Smoke from a rubbish fire in a furnace at the V. F. W. home on N. Broadway brought out a truck at 11:22 p. m. Monday.

AIR ATTACKS DIM TRUCE AIM

Salem citizens paused Monday morning, with the rest of the nation, to pay homage to all their war dead, with appropriate Memorial day services conducted at Hope and Grandview cemeteries.

Commemorative themes also were used by ministers in Sunday worship services, honoring those who lost their lives in defense of their country.

The American Legion Quaker City band led the first section of the colorful parade Monday to Hope cemetery, with a vanguard composed of colors and color guard, Sons of Union Veterans and the Legion post; president of the day, Wade A. Loop, commander of Charles H. Carey post, American Legion; Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, speaker; firing squad; American Legion members and auxiliary; Girl Scouts; school children and autos.

Atty Alfred Fitch presided at the Hope cemetery exercises, while Margaret Sommers gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address and Gloria Steffel recited "Flanders Field," with the response by Robert Askey.

The Salem High school band and color guard of the Allen K. Reynolds post; firing squad; Veterans of Foreign Wars, Amvets; Dads of Foreign Service Veterans, Gold Star auxiliary; Girl Scouts and autos made up the fast-moving aggregation which went to Grandview.

Capt. John Hansen of the Salvation Army, a Marine veteran; Rex R. Reich, senior vice commander of the Amvets and parade marshal, and Robert Carpenter of Allen Reynolds post chaplain, conducted the rites there.

Hope Service
Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor of the Lisbon Presbyterian church, used the pointed phrase, "Let Us Not Forget," as his theme and forcefully said he was grateful to God that his ancestry felt it in their hearts to come to this country from Scotland, Ireland and England more than a century ago. When he thinks in terms of the many many countries in the world in the midst of all their chaos, he is further grateful to be a part of this great country that is ours, he added.

He said a good American can not be too grateful for the part rendered by both the living and departed who have served our country in all of her wars.

The speaker also reminded us to think of the many in hospitals and institutions throughout our land, victims of war, that they may challenge us to continue to fight for the freedoms we so thoroughly enjoy.

Grandview Service
"Memories For Today" was the topic of Capt. Hansen in which he stressed the fact that our memory of these men and women, who died for us, should never fade, for they gave their life's blood to keep this country free.

"If we are to keep what we have won, let us stand on guard. There are still men and organizations in our land and in the world which represent the cold, heartless errors of our human past. To stand for those ideals, liberties and rights which God has committed to the care of men, is our solemn trust."

He reminded his audience there are memories that bless us, but there are other memories we should recall with shame.

The captain concluded with this statement:

"My prayer this morning is that God will arouse in the whole body of the people an adventurous willingness, as they sacrificed for war, so also for international goodwill; to dare bravely, think wisely, decide definitely and achieve triumphantly our goals."

COUNCIL PONDER'S CITY HALL PLANS

City council may discuss final plans for the erection of a new city hall at its meeting tonight, depending upon the progress made by the architect.

Council met with a representative of its architectural firm, Harry Watson & Associates of Cleveland, last week and began final plans and specifications for the building. There are some financial difficulties to iron out before the work proceeds.

Legislation authorizing sale and removal of homes from the three properties at the southeast corner of S. Broadway may be presented for action by council. The properties were purchased by the city as the city hall site $41,500.

Occurs On Route 46
The fatal accident occurred at 9 a. m. Monday on Route 46, about a mile north of Columbiana, the state highway patrol reported. Jeffries, the patrol said, was driving on the wrong side of the road and collided almost head-on with the car, driven by Melvin Culp.

The young Culp boy died following an attempt at brain surgery at the hospital. He had suffered a fractured skull, in addition to lacerations.

He is survived by his parents; five sisters, Dorothea, Ruth, Barbara, Leah Gail and Rachel; three brothers, Melvin, Jonathan, and David, all at home.

He was born Nov. 14, 1945 and was a member of the Good Hope Lutheran church in North Lima.

The body was removed to the Fry funeral home, Columbiana, pending arrangements.

Route 62 Accident
The Brown child was hurt when a truck driven by Raymond Werner, 43, of East Palestine, attempted to pass a car driven by her father, Riley Brown, 35, of Damascus at an intersection on Route 62, two miles west of Salem, at 4:45 p. m. Sunday.

The patrol said Werner failed to see a hand signal given by Brown.

Fails To Pay For Gas, Is Arrested

An errant motorist paid $25.00 for one dollar's worth of gasoline, but not because he wanted to.

Andrew Byler, 20, of New Waterford, arrested by the Salem state highway patrol on a charge of failure to pay for gasoline, was fined $20 and $5.00 costs when given a hearing before Mayor K. T. Gornley of Columbiana. The patrol reported Byler drove away from a Negley service station Friday night without paying the attendant for one dollar's worth of gas. A license plate check resulted in his apprehension.

Four other arrests were reported by the patrol for the weekend.

Robert Maurer, 36, of Columbiana, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville for speeding.

Dominic Piazza, 25, of Cleveland, was fined $10 and costs by Justice Frank Held of East Liverpool for a stop sign violation.

One Thing At A Time

Russia's lend-lease account with the American people is approximately 11 billion dollars; this country's reverse lend-lease account with Russia is approximately 2 billion dollars. There has been nothing done to make a settlement. But things are looking brighter.

It is barely possible the United States will get some kind of a settlement for the non-military supplies that Russians have used for peaceful purposes. The Soviet ambassador to this country has said he is going to Moscow to get new instructions on the matter. If the instructions are new, they must be better than the old ones, which apparently were to sit tight and say nothing.

There is no chance to recover anything from the cost of the airplanes, tanks, trucks and other fighting equipment sent to Russia. They are subject only to some form of paper settlement. But for material sent to Russia after the end of the war, settlement in kind is possible. It would be as direct a manifestation of good faith as the Kremlin could give, a token payment for billions of dollars' worth of war equipment sent to the Russian people, to save them from the consequences of their own government's inability to give them what they needed to drive out the German invaders.

That was a gift to a brave people. The Russians themselves were grateful. Their government never was anything but suspicious of American intentions. If it should be the desire of the Kremlin now to make amends, however small, they would be worth the effort. The American people are painfully aware that they, their children and their children's children will pay for the cost of lend-lease while paying for a rearmament program of their own, made necessary by the Kremlin's policy of obstructionism.

They're Accomplishing Something

In World War II, differences in Army, Air Force and Navy contract specifications added billions to costs and reduced combat efficiency. That is the testimony of Gen. Leroy Lutes, wartime Army Service Forces director.

The National Security act of 1947, which places the three services under a defense secretary, has been unsatisfactory in some respects but it has brought important progress in eliminating supply differences in the services. During the next fiscal year, $3,500,000,000 will be spent for military material, of which 65 percent will be expended under single-purchase agreements whereby one service makes the purchases for all three. Another 19 percent will be spent under joint or collaborative purchase agreements, while only 16 percent will be used independently by the individual services.

Under the leadership of the new munitions board, the services are drafting uniform contract clauses and setting up a single procedure for processing bids, terminating contracts and handling all other administrative detail.

In the past each service has kept a catalog of all items it uses. More than 5,000,000 items were listed in the three catalogs. Preparation of a single catalog for the services, a three-year task, has been started and will reduce the number of items by half. It will make for standardization of equipment, simplifying the manufacturers' task, making for better warehousing and providing more interchangeability of equipment.

This isn't a spectacular development. It hasn't made the front pages as has the haggling over the 70-group air force and the various Army-Navy squabbles. But it is a development that will pay increasing dividends in peacetime economy and combat efficiency.

Population Trends

The nation's population graph isn't following the course predicted for it. The May bulletin of the population reference bureau shows that in the early 1930's economists had predicted the population would be declining by the middle of the century.

In 1934, Dr. O. E. Baker, the Agriculture department's senior economist, predicted that by 1948 the population would be 132,000,000. Actually it is around 144,000,000. He predicted that it would fall to 98,000,000 by 1960. That may yet come to pass, but since the war the birth rate has continued to increase.

Predictions of the 1930's were based on the fact the percentage of population growth had been declining since 1900. Nobody knows why the trend has reversed itself. Sociologists decry the decline of the family. The price of food and the availability of housing certainly don't encourage the rearing of families. Yet the population continues to rise. Perhaps the explanation lies in the steadily increasing life span made possible by improved hygiene and medical treatment.

By GENEVIE REMBLE
For Wednesday, June 2

WHILE regulation and normal procedures and techniques may have some show of progress and mending broken fences suddenly torn by disastrous gales, yet an entire and enduring comeback may not be counted upon. Certain influential elements may be impressed, placated, or won over to some constructive action, yet there are signs of carelessness, impulsive judgments and these sustained or urged by treachery, schemes or other illicit or pernicious entanglements. Keep alert to all subtle or intriguing contacts, especially social or affectional.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be able to win the friendly support of certain influential interests, whose substantial aid is vital to restoration and reconstructed effort. Yet even this may have crafty or dubious undercurrents, in which it may be judicious to be keenly alive to sordid complications, where suspicious and subtlety are menacing. Such might have an element of the social, romantic or domestic, likewise keyed to the treacherous and underhand. Side-step any form of alluring commitments, if loss and regret are to be avoided.

A child born on this day may be talented and progressive, although an easy victim to dupes and snares, both business and in its personal life.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

BY WALTER KIERNAN

The secretary of the treasury is asking for more tax agents . . . he is anxious to prove that people are essentially honest if carefully watched.

The eventual goal is two Treasury agents for each taxpayer . . . the profit will be less but volume will run high.

It is not that taxpayers are deliberately dishonest . . . they are just inclined to make adjustments which congress has neglected to do.

Meanwhile the cold war between the Treasury and Miss Vivien Kellems is warming up . . . having made an initial landing in the lady's bank the government forces are digging in for the expected counter-attack.

Miss Kellems is the manufacturer who believes that if Caesar wants rendered unto him the things that are his he better arrange to get his own reindeer.

Her viewpoint may not be right but it's sure interesting . . . stand by for further bulletins.

As long as boogie is composed most people who listen to it will not be.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Carrying Baby To Full Term

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Some women seem to have repeated miscarriages. Just why many of them are unable to carry a child to full term has not been definitely determined, but in some cases their failure is thought to be due to some disturbance of the glands of internal secretion, such as the pituitary gland or the thyroid gland.

The successful treatment of a number of women with this type of disorder has been reported. Three glandular extracts were used, one coming from the pituitary gland located at the base of the brain, the second known as corpus luteum coming from the ovary, and the third, estrogen, also from the ovaries.

Treatment Started

The women treated had had from one to three early births. The treatment was started just as soon as it was definitely determined that the women were pregnant.

The extract from the pituitary gland was given three times a week in fairly large dosage for the first 4½ months, and then the dosage was reduced and continued for 3½ months more.

The corpus luteum was given three times a week for the first 4½ months, and then twice a week until eight months had elapsed.

Full Term

The estrogens were given daily. As a result of this treatment, all 27 of the women were able to go through the full term of pregnancy. There was some bleeding, however, even during treatment in some cases.

It is not thought that this form of treatment is a preventative for all early births, but it did work quite satisfactorily in all the cases in which it was used. The babies were all normal. The birth of the baby did not occur earlier than ten days after the injections were stopped.

MUNDT BILL FOES THREATEN PROTEST

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 1—Belligerent opponents of the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill threatened today to lead a protest demonstration at the Capitol Wednesday.
Len Goldsmith of New York, executive secretary of the Committee for Democratic Rights, said "thousands of people" will be on hand to demand a hearing before the senate judiciary committee.

There were angry shouts from the audience when the committee closed public hearings yesterday on the house-passed bill to force registration of Communists. A group of about 30 men and women were waiting to testify.
"We're tired of being shoved around," Goldsmith shouted. "We demand the right to be heard."
But Senator Wiley (R-Wis), committee chairman, already had left the committee room. Acting Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) said he had no authority to continue the hearings.
Wiley's committee will meet
Thursday, it was learned, to decide what to do about two witnesses

Knox, Beattie Win Holiday Golf Tourney; Women Begin Season's Tournaments Today

Ed Knox and Don Beattie won firsts in the flag tournament at the Salem Golf course Memorial day in one of the busiest holiday weekends in the club's history.

The women of the club were scheduled to begin their 1948 tournament season today with a flag tournament of their own and another large turnout was expected for that event, climaxing an extended holiday weekend.

Play was heavy Monday, with an estimated 150 golfers participating, while both Sunday and Saturday saw more than 100 golfers enjoy the fine weather. The club observed its annual Memorial day dance Saturday night and approximately 85 couples attended.

In the holiday flag tourney Knox won first in the top flight, ending up a foot from the No. 19 hole. He carded a blazing 78, three under his allotted handicap for 18 holes. Second place in the top flight went to Art Lind, who finished after a 190 yard drive on the 19th hole.

Beattie's 87 left him three strokes on the 19th and his flag was planted 10 yards from the No. 19 green. Second place in the lower flight went to Dr. M. M. Sandrock, who finished up 30 yards from No. 19 green.

Other places in the top flight were as follows: 3rd, Al Moser, 196 yard drive on 19; 4th, Walt Whitbrand, 12 feet from No. 18 cup; 5th, O. A. Naragon, 25 feet from No. 18 cup; 6th, Jim Wingard, 35 feet from No. 18 cup; 7th, Fred Cox, 290 yard drive on No. 18; 8th, N. I. Walken, 160 yard drive on No. 18.

Included in the lower flight winners were: 3rd, Al Juhn, 250 yard drive on No. 19; 4th, Sam Chessman, holed out on No. 18; 5th, G. Marshall of Lisbon, 6 inches from cup on No. 18; 6th, T. E. Smith, four feet from 18th cup; 7th, Jim Britt,

Salem Polo Team Splits In Holiday Twin Bill

SALEM AMVETS ADD THREE WINS TO VICTORY CHAIN

Now Have Eight Straight For Season; Wins Come Saturday, Monday

In a busy holiday weekend the Salem Amvets racked up three more victories, thus maintaining their unsullied record of eight straight for the season.

Saturday's fray against Carrollton was a thriller, but the Salem outfit charged ahead 5-4 on runs in the sixth and seventh frames after Carrollton had made their total of four in the first.

Monday the Amvets cleaned up on East Palestine 12-4 and 9-5 in a double header at Palestine. The going wasn't nearly so rough on the holiday and hits were easier to collect. The Vets slapped out 14 bingles in the first game and 13 in the second.

Locals Auspicious Before 1,500; Win One 8-4, Lose First Game By 11-10 Margin

With a big splash on the Salem sports scene, the Salem Polo club opened its 1948 auspiciously, downing famed Columbus Harbor Hills 8-4 on Memorial day after absorbing a thrilling 11-10 loss the previous day at the North Ellsworth road field.

Crowds for the two games, especially the one Sunday, were termed "very encouraging" by Polo club officials and served to introduce the willow root sport here once again in an impressive manner. Approximately 1,000 attended the Sunday contest and 500 on Monday.

A special feature of the Sunday attraction was a pre-game air show, arranged and announced by Sam F. Keener, head of the Salem Engineering Co. The show featured formation flying, stunt flying and landings and takeoffs from the polo field itself.

The Quaker outfit showed a beautiful brand of polo for so early in the season and consequently seems headed for another banner season. Although Columbus rates among the best in the mid-west, Salem left little to be desired in its performance and gave the visitors all they could handle in both tilts.

Especially encouraging was the play of a newcomer to Salem's lineup, Clem Bates, who teamed effectively with the old timers—Jim Pidgeon, Walt Fernengel, Pete Votaw and Willie Smith—to give the locals a well rounded outfit.

The Sunday game, one of free scoring, saw Salem gain the lead after four minutes of play with Pidgeon setting up a shot for Smith at the east goal. Myers came back with a beautiful ride to knot the count, then repeated to put Harbor Hills in the lead.

Pidgeon then squared accounts by placing Bates in a scoring position. Bates rode the length of the field to score, ending the period with Salem in the lead, 3-2.

During the remainder of game the playing of Harris of Harbor Hills was outstanding, the hard riding visitor displaying some of the most outstanding riding ever seen on the local field.

In the fifth chucker Harris stole the show, scoring three times with little assistance from his teammates.

The closing seconds of the game, with the score knotted at 10-10, was one of breath-taking expectancy. When the official time expired the ball still was in play and a fancy kick by Myers' horse placed the ball in front of the goal where Harris drove it across to tally the winning score.

The scoring in the Sunday contest was: Smith goals, Bates 4 goals, Pidgeon 1 goal (all alone) and Fernengel 1 goal.

Monday's crowd witnessed a better defensive game with the first chucker ending 1 after a score by Smith. At the start of the second period Salem retained the advantage with a beautiful back hand shot by Pidgeon to take a 2-0 lead. Then Bates went into action with assistance from Fernengel to chalk up a 4-2 lead after two Columbus tallies by Kennedy.

In the third and fourth chuckers the scoring was sparse but the riding hard, Salem chalked up two tallies on shots by Bates and Pidgeon and one by Myers and Barnett.

Though the scoring was limited in the final two periods the riding was hard and the play defensive.

The fifth chucker started well for the locals with a goal by Bates after a foul by Harbor Hills. Fernengel set up a scoring play for Jim Pidgeon at the east goal.

Scoring Monday was: Bates 4,

The East Liverpool-Salem game was played Sunday, the two latter on Monday.

League play resumes at the park today with the Leetonia Legion meeting the Salem Junior Merchants.

Mrs. Crowe told the patrol she was blinded by the lights of another car at 10:30 p. m. Sunday on Route 7, four miles north of the junction of 30 and 7. Her car left the road on the right side and went into the ditch.

The patrol reported five other accidents over the weekend, all in the "fender-bender" class. None of the people involved was hurt.

A three-car collision took place at 8:31 a. m. Sunday on Route 30, eight miles west of East Liverpool. They were driven by Frank Waselesky, 29, of Canton, Capt. Char. Sagac, 29, of Fort Meade, Md., and Harley Whitehill, 62, of East Liverpool.

THE FAILURE of the United Nations thus far to achieve a truce in the Arab-Jewish war is tragic for the Holy Land and it's tragic for the peace organization, since it points to disunity within the U. N. itself.

The Arabs, while playing for time by calling on the U. N. to lay down exact terms for a political settlement, wouldn't agree to a truce called for except on conditions which included the demand that recognition of the new Jewish state of Israel be abandoned. This, of course, the Jews won't accept.

So the conflict continues. It swirls about the birthplace of the Prince of Olives, which stands for much that is cherished in Christian history—the place where Christ taught the disciples the Lord's prayer. It is proceeding within the walls of ancient Jerusalem, where a small Jewish force has been stubbornly clinging to its hazardous position. Shells from Arab guns continue to batter the Holy City.

THE WAR is still too young to disclose its trend. Not so the affairs of the United Nations—a house divided against itself. It is clear that if it cannot find a method of halting this new outbreak, its influence in the eyes of the world may drop so low as to render it impotent.

One of the greatest obstacles to peace lies in the fact that America and Britain are lined up on opposite sides. British Foreign Secretary Bevin told the house of commons Wednesday that England will continue to fulfill treaty obligations to furnish officers for the Trans-Jordan Arab legion unless this becomes "inconsistent with our obligations to the United Nations." On the other hand, observers figured that the Arab rejection of the truce was likely to harden the American stand favoring the Jewish state.

The clash between America and Britain is further seen in the question of an American loan to Israel. Dr. Chaim Weizmann, first president of Israel, stated after a conference at the White House in Washington that President Truman was receptive to a request for a loan of $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. This promptly evoked an expression of concern and astonishment from London.

HOWEVER, the two great democracies certainly aren't allowing the matter to drift without making efforts to reconcile their differences. Foreign Minister Bevin and U. S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas are continuing their anxious search for ways and means of restoring peace in Palestine. And it is only fair to say that the problem is complicated and far from easy solution.

Meantime France is said to be anxious for strong action by the U. N. against any countries refusing to heed the Security Council's appeal to cease fire. This is in line with American and Russian attitudes. London is reported to have advised Paris not to be hasty, and

Remember Your Basement Is A Third Of Your House

Basements come in handy in many ways. They comprise about a third of the space in average homes. They offer unusual possibilities for enlargement of homes.

For many years the basement has been the most popular location for the rumpus room, where a party can cut loose in informal surroundings with noise well muffled.

And the basement is a godsend to the hobbyist. It is an ideal spot for a workbench, a photographic darkroom, a miniature railroad layout, a shortwave radio station.

However, so many basements remain virtually unused that the American Society of Interior Design recently compiled a variety of practical ideas to help homeowners rediscover their basements.

Development and availability of new and improved building materials now makes it possible to turn many basements into living quarters as desirable as any other part of the house. Such alterations can be made at comparatively modest cost.

In many cases at least a half of the basement can be partitioned off into a second living room, child's playroom, teen-age social place, game room, study or other specialized use.

New waterproofing compounds are on the market which have gone far toward ending the dampness problem. Waterproofing paints that can be applied to the inside of a basement wall—previously all waterproofing had to be outside—have been demonstrated in a miniature basement floating for years in a tank of water at the Architects' Samples Corporation, 101 Park ave., New York.

One floor covering well known nowadays for its durability is asphalt tile. Engineers say that it is a smooth surfaced and resilient floor covering that can be used successfully on concrete in direct contact with the ground.

This offers a wide range in

East Sixth Street Housing Project

THE 30 NEW HOMES being built on E. Sixth st., east of Lincoln ave., are nearing completion as is evidenced in the above Salem News photo. Two of the five-room dwellings on the south side of the street already are occupied. Meanwhile, work is being rushed on grading and slagging the street.

colors and designs, and a basement is one place where the amateur decorator can go to town with color. It is a place where bright color can be used with a lavish hand.

Bright aluminum paneling, new aluminum tiles, plastic tiles and plastic panels in varieties of hues open new avenues for wall treatment. Knotty pine and pecky cypress are still favorites among many. And depending on your budget, there are plywoods available, offering finishes of some of the world's rarest woods.

Acoustical ceiling coverings can be had in several materials. There also is an acoustical plaster which is very effective. But don't paint acoustical materials—wash them. Too much paint can deaden their effect.

Terminology Of Homes

Q—How often should I water my lawn?

A—Once or twice a week is sufficient if the soil is no drier than average. The ground should be moistened to a depth of about six inches. Light sprinklings help weeds more than grass.

Q—How closely should lawn grass be mowed?

A—One and one-half to two inches high. Short cutting exposes the roots to the hot sun. Q—What makes paint blister?

A—Paint blisters or peels off woodwork when there is an excessive amount of moisture in the wood. When blisters are opened, they are sometimes found to contain water.

Q—Is fire-resistant roofing worth the additional expense?

A—It would be, but it definitely is not necessary to pay more. Fire-resistant asphalt shingles, the most popular of all home roofing materials, actually are among the least expensive kinds, both in first cost and in maintenance.

Plan Carefully When You Prepare To Build A Home

Even in skyscraper - crowded New York, vacant land has not always proved to be a good investment. Some of New York's old families have paid more taxes on vacant properties than the land is worth.

Usually the only way the value of a lot is enhanced is through improvements—the installation of water and other utilities, paved streets, storm sewers, curbs, sidewalks and street lights—all of which add special assessments to your tax bill. Then if neighbors build on their lots, yours becomes more desirable.

But it is easier to harmonize house and lot if you work on both at the same time. Instead of arbitrarily fitting one to the other, for the reason it is always prudent to take your architect along before making your final selection of a home site. He will save you a headache in planning for the best exposures and orientation for the best exposures and orientation.

FIRST, it is up to you to decide on the community you prefer, and then on the neighborhood or other location. A local real estate broker, familiar with the locality, the distance to shopping centers, transportation lines, churches, schools and recreation, can prove very helpful. The seller pays his commission, so you have the benefit of his service.

Then talk to the local banker, too. Weigh the local assessed value against the tax rate. One can be high, the other low in various communities. Find out how much an independent appraisal will cost. In narrowing down to a specific site you may have to compromise between a smaller lot with all improvements in a convenient location and a larger tract with few or no utilities in a more picturesque but remote spot. The happy medium is up to you.

WHEN you have a few agreeable sites in mind, you will want the advice of your architect. He will be able to size up such details as contour and drainage in relation to the house you want. He will know whether rock outcroppings mean no basement, or a part basement. He will know where you may want the kitchen and dining room to take advantage of the morning sun. He'll visualize the living room for whatever view is available.

The nearest weather bureau can tell you what prevailing winds sweep your section. This is important for planning bedrooms and porches for summer comfort. Prevailing winds can differ in localities a few miles apart.

With your architect you will have figured your building budget and know how much you can afford to pay for land. It may range around 20 per cent of the total project.

The counsel of a lawyer is important in buying land. The seller will have his lawyer and you need yours.

BUYING land is different than almost any other purchase. No one really owns land. What you own is title to the land. That title must be clear.

If some previous sale of your property was made by someone not of full age and sound mind your ownership is insecure. Claims have been filed on the basis of untrue marital status stated by former owners, children born after the date of a will covering the property, mistakes on heirship made by courts, fraud and forgery of past deeds, confusion over identical names (such as John Jones, Ole Olson, etc.).

Therefore, it is sensible to get title insurance so that any claim that may arise will be fought and paid by the title company and not by you. The cost of the title insurance includes title search, which a lawyer could make, but his assurance of a clear title is not insurance against claims. The cost also is paid in one sum, so there are no yearly premiums.

Then, before awarding any contract for building, arrange with a bank, a savings and loan association, or other lending institution for your mortgage loan.

In times of inflated prices it is prudent to find out about this far in advance, before buying land, or taking any costly step. You will want to know definitely how much cash you must put up and how much your financing charges will amount to.

IT IS to your benefit to make the biggest cash investment possible. Every additional $1,000 of cash payment will save $519.20 on a 20-year mortgage at 4 1/2 per cent.

Every increase of one-half of 1 per cent in interest will cost you $64.80 on each $1,000 or mortgage over 20 years.

And if you can stand larger monthly payments a 15-year mortgage instead of a 20-year loan of $6,400, for example, will save you $910.08 in the final cost of your home.

Cost of New Houses To Climb As High As 10%

COLUMBUS—Far from declining, the cost of new homes may increase as much as 10 per cent, Fred B. Huebenthal, a director of the Chicago real estate board has predicted.

Labor costs will keep prices up, he said, because unions are not taking in enough apprentices to build up a labor supply big enough to meet demands.

From the peaks of north Sweden, the sun can be seen continuously for six weeks.

HOW ARCHITECT EARNS FEE

AN ARCHITECT earns his fee. He works out your budget problem with you. He designs a house to give your family maximum comfort. He figures on every one of the estimated 30,000 parts that go into the average house. He becomes your right hand man in dealing with builders and supply houses. He keeps his eye on the job until it is finished.

The average architect's fee is split

Drop Your Porch To Cut Costs

A porch is the first thing you can leave off a house when the plan gets beyond your budget. It also is one of the easiest things to add later.

Porches are expensive to build. They cost from half to two-thirds as much as a room of equal size.

Building costs usually are figured by the cubic foot. Open porches are counted for half of their cubic content. Screened porches often figure at two-thirds of their cubic content. Porches glassed-in cost about the same as a complete room.

three ways: One part to his draftsman who draw the complicated working plans; one part to office overhead and expenses; one part for his profit.

You also pay him in three major parts: 25 percent when preliminary drawings are completed and approved; 50 percent when working drawings and specifications are finished and ready for builders to bid on, and the remaining 25 percent in proportions to each payment made to the contractor as the work progresses.

AN ARCHITECT'S preliminary drawings are for you to sleep over. If you have any changes of mind this is the time to make them. After working drawings are finished and contract awarded, every change becomes an "extra."

Working drawings are infinitely detailed. Even slight changes may have to be carried through all of them. They are the basis of shop drawings for the plumber, the electrician, the heating and ventilating contractor, and so on.

THE ARCHITECT prepares two important legal documents for you—your contract with the builder and your specifications. They are among your few guarantees.

Specifications, for example, run to many pages and list virtually everything as to size and quality that will go into your house. They will see that you get "quartered" second or third grade flooring instead of cheaper "plain" first grade lumber. You don't want to be fooled by labels.

The architect checks all bills to see that you get what you pay for and that no materials have been substituted. It's his business to know materials and his inspection of the job protects you.

A good architect also knows property values and can offer invaluable assistance in selecting your site. One side of a street differs from another.

In fact, the word architect comes directly from the ancient Greek, meaning "master builder." If your architect is qualified and registered, he has the know-how.

Repairs To Courthouse Exterior Are Planned

How does your house keep that freshly painted look?

DuPont No. 40 Outside White CLEANS ITSELF!

Your House will always look fresh and white when painted with Du Pont No. 40 Outside White House Paint. For dirt and grime don't become embedded—the rains just wash them away. The paint remains sparkling clean and new-looking!

Self-Cleaning Du Pont No. 40 Outside White House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) and stains from copper screens may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Self-Cleaning Du Pont No. 40 Outside White House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful. It protects against rust, rot and decay—giving lasting beauty and protection. Yet it costs no more than other good paints. Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs. He'll be glad to use Du Pont House Paint. Also available in tinted colors.

Fireplaces Add To Heat and Homeyness

While nothing is prettier than a bright log fire in the living room, the fireplace framing it should be useful as well as ornamental.

Artistic niches at each side can hold matches, brushes and tongs. Seats built at each side, upholstered in hardy material, can cover a pair of practical wood boxes. Building the fireplace with a hearth about two feet high brings the fire to eye level for an unusual effect, and extending this hearth at the sides forms a handy ledge for extra seating, or for planting. And a built-in woodbox that can be filled from outdoors saves carrying, scattering debris, unnecessary extra handling of wood.

There are complete fireplace units around which any design can be built, available in two styles: one for modern insulated homes with central heating, the other for cottages, southern homes or play rooms where heat is the principal function of the fireplace. Both units have specially designed dampers and flues to prevent smoking, heat loss and drafts, and to circulate air throughout rooms, keeping fresh air and heat mixed healthfully. A flexible metal screen prevents fire and spark damage and makes the fireplace safe as well as charming.

Why Not Attractive Garbage Containers?

When it comes time to spruce up the back yard, don't overlook the value of paint as a beautifier. An inexpensive coat of paint applied to fences, garages, outdoor furniture and other back yard equipment will provide an attractive setting for those flowers soon to be planted.

Why not paint that garbage can, too? It is amazing what a coat of green paint will do for such objects. Of course, if a garbage can is worn out, or if a box has been used for refuse, a new container should be purchased. Galvanized steel garbage cans are available once again and meet all of the requirements of health authorities and economy-minded home owners.

If a new galvanized steel garbage can is to be painted, it is a good idea to wipe it with a rag that has been dipped in a solution of vinegar and water. This procedure enables the paint to adhere to the rust-resistant finish more securely. If a can has been exposed to the weather for several weeks, however, the vinegar and water treatment is unnecessary.

City Law Requires Fire-proof Shingles

Salisbury, N. C., has a city ordinance requiring all houses, new or old, to be roofed with fire-resistant shingles in order to reduce the fire hazard of flammable roofing.

The ordinance was passed more than 14 years ago but the effective date was delayed to keep from imposing an excessive financial burden on home-owners required to re-roof their dwellings.

The original deadline was March 23, 1946, but that was extended to May 9 this year. Production of fire-resistant asphalt shingles is now about 200 per cent greater than in 1939, and the ordinance is being enforced.

Fire Chief Charles L. Burkett said that before fire-resistant shingles were required, shingle roofs which could catch fire from sparks were a chief fire hazard. There were only four fires from that cause last year, he added.
